

2022 CALENDAR

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Your donations to the Montreal SPCA make a real difference. Without your support, we would not be able to help so many animals, and we thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

In our 2022 calendar, you will meet a few of the animals who have been saved or whose quality of life has greatly improved, thanks to your precious support. Our protégés have posed happily for you, and we hope they will take pride of place on your wall this year.

Helping, 365 days a year

Would you like to help even more animals? You can make a special donation or join our Monthly Giving Program at any time. The letter enclosed with your calendar explains how. You love our calendar and would like to gift it to loved ones? Visit the <https://www.sPCA.com/en/2022-calendar-now-available> and order more now while quantities last.

THIMOTHY

This adorable grey rabbit has deformities on three legs. But obviously, he isn't aware of his condition, and doesn't mind. He's very active and joyfully hops around his large and special-needs-adapted enclosure. He's fortunate to have found a compassionate human who adopted him for life. Timothy likes to keep his guardian company by lying next to her while she watches TV, along with his two other rabbit friends, also from the SPCA.

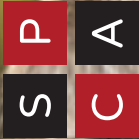

Our animal behaviourists worked hard to help beautiful Maggie improve her behaviour. One of our volunteer dog-walkers adopted her after she'd spent several months at the shelter. Very social, Maggie is now very well behaved and loves to greet all the children she meets along her walks!

A close-up photograph of two guinea pigs. In the foreground, a guinea pig with white and brown patches is sitting inside a light-colored woven basket, looking towards the camera. Behind it, a dark brown guinea pig is partially visible, eating a piece of bright green lettuce. The lettuce is held in its mouth, and its front paws are visible near the leaves. The background is a plain, light-colored surface.

Not many people realize that guinea pigs are gregarious animals: they absolutely must live with companions. These two adorable friends are now in foster care, after a huge lump was removed from Salade's belly. She's the beige one—what a cutie!

MACHA

Sweet Macha was dehydrated and refusing to eat when she arrived at the shelter. Fortunately, in our team's care, she got better quickly and was adopted by a family who adores her. There's no doubt about it: she's re-found her love of food!

Found on the side of a road when she was only a few weeks old, this cute little sow was sent to us by another shelter unequipped to care for her. Since we are used to providing farm animals with temporary care, the Montreal SPCA was able to provide for Princesse Phoebe's needs before transferring her to a specialized shelter. She was spayed by our veterinarians, before leaving on September 1, 2021, for a beautiful sanctuary in Ontario where she can safely spend happy days.

ARCHIE

This gorgeous young redhead arrived at the shelter with a dislocated tail, requiring one of his hind legs to be amputated quickly. While his caudectomy wound heals, Archie is in the loving care of his new adoptive family: a mom, two grown children and a dog named Lily, with whom he loves to play.

MÉLI AND MÉLO

After their human moved out, these two friendly ducks were found alone in an empty apartment. After a brief stay at the shelter, Méli and Mélo are now living the good life in the country, where they have quickly become the leaders of a merry raft of five.

LÉON

Léon was an anxious pup when he showed up at the SPCA. Now a real charmer, Léon has mastered the art of puppy eyes, mostly to get treats! Leon is now part of a loving family who has the time work with him and reduce his anxiety through positive reinforcement. He has even learned a few tricks, like “shake” with both paws and playing dead when he hears “pow!”

BEAU

Beau was entrusted to the SPCA after a fall because his former family did not have the financial means to treat his two broken front legs. After extensive orthopedic surgery and a long recovery, Beau was adopted by an animal health technician who was interning at the SPCA during his shelter stay. Wearing his name well, he knows how to show off in front of those who cross his path.

Shady was turned over to the SPCA after being removed from neglect so he could find a new family. This one-year-old colt now lives on a beautiful farm with a friend his own size. Shady is feisty and quite the escape artist! The door to his stall had to be adjusted several times after he jumped it to stroll around as he pleased. Since his whole life is ahead of him, Shady's new humans will have time to kindly teach him some good manners.

DUKE

Duke came to us from a dog shelter in Kahnawake that was overflowing with residents. He stayed at the SPCA for a long time to work on his behaviour because, although he is very sweet, Duke is a big dog with a lot of energy who is easily distracted. Fortunately, our patience paid off and a young, active couple decided to give Duke his second chance. They're continuing to work with him at home to improve his behaviour. He now enjoys several outings a day in a harness, morning runs in the park and mental stimulation.

PERLA

Perla arrived at the shelter with a fractured pelvis. She was less than a year old and had to undergo costly surgery. She is now healing in the home of an animal health technician. She loves to socialize with all the humans she meets and even gives her guardian kisses on the nose when she is sleeping.
